On May 10, 2010, an Atlanta police officer was involved in a traffic accident while responding to a traffic dispute in the City of Atlanta. The officer was transported to the hospital by a different officer and was diagnosed with spinal injuries. Subsequent investigation confirmed that the officer had been in a severe automobile accident and was thrown from the vehicle. The incident occurred on May 10 at approximately 6:00 p.m., when the officer was in the 1000 block of Buford Highway in the City of Atlanta, Ga. The officer was attempting to stop a vehicle, after it was observed violating the speed limit and driving recklessly in the lanes of traffic. The responding officer immediately activated his overhead lights and siren. The suspect vehicle accelerated and struck the officer's vehicle. The car then continued on to the intersection of Finley Drive and Buford Highway. The driver left the scene of the traffic accident. The officer was then taken to Grady Memorial Hospital for medical treatment. The investigation determined that the officer was thrown from the vehicle that struck him and was pinned between the car's roof and the ground. The officer had no pulse and did not have a breathing rhythm. The officer was then transported to a local hospital. He was listed in critical, life-threatening condition and was in a coma. The officer died at 10:00 p.m. Sunday, May 11, 2010. There is no information to indicate this was a deliberate act. The officer was not terminated from his employment and he will be afforded the usual procedures by the City. INVESTIGATION INTO THE DEATH OF OFFICER The investigation into the death of Officer Shelly Hamilton began on May 13, 2010, with an autopsy being performed by the Office of the Medical Examiner. On May 20, 2010, the office of the Fulton County District Attorney began a separate investigation into
